

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY PRENTICE & HENDERSON.

DAILY $10; TRI-WEEKLY $6; WEEKLY $2.

The Tri-Weekly Journal is published on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday.

The Weekly Journal is published on Tuesday.

The Country Daily Journal is a weekly.

BEST PRICE—$10 per annum, or $10 for 3 copies.

Weekly Bulletin $1.

LOUISVILLE.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 11, 1854.

SECURE— Will be paid for the detection, so as to warrant conviction, of the thieves who are in the habit of taking from our subscribers the morning papers.

PRENTICE & HENDERSON.

AN UNFORTUNATE PROCESSION.— The Jacksonian Mississippian of the 19th ult. proclaims the discovery of an anti-slavery man in a public school at Jackson and his summary expulsion from the town. The Mississippian gives this account of the man in which his opinion is discovered:

On Thursday he deposited in the post-office a letter, which by accident, and as good luck would have it, was delivered to the postmaster, in making up the mail, was under the necessity of looking into it, to learn what was in it. The postmaster, after a hasty examination, contained the most vile anti-slavery sentiments, and that its author was a rabid abolitionist.

Our opinion is that the postmaster should be dismissed from office. His conduct is not to be excused, but we do not know that it was for himself or one of his clerks, but when he found that it was not, he had no right to read it, and, after he did read it, he had no right to divulge its contents.

The organ of the friends of freedom thinks that the people of the South ought to be as violently excited as the people of the North are. It is of opinion, that public speakers and public lecturers at the South, as at the North, should be among the people, stirring up their passions and their zeal.

The intimacy that subsisted between her family and the Bonaparte family extended back a whole generation beyond her birth, and was continued through the life of Napoleon.

There will be found in these memoirs an admirable blending of historical facts and personal anecdotes.

French women, the slaves of the Southern States, are the slaves of the South. They may be having wilderings in their native country scattered abroad homeless and hopeless.

Having seen such a picture of the state of feeling at the North, the Mercury asks:

Is the repose of the South that of conscious power? In her apparent indifference the result of the Southern slaves is to be seen. The postmaster, in making up the mail, was under the necessity of looking into it, to learn what was in it. The postmaster, after a hasty examination, contained the most vile anti-slavery sentiments, and that its author was a rabid abolitionist.

Our opinion is that the postmaster should be dismissed from office. His conduct is not to be excused, but we do not know that it was for himself or one of his clerks, but when he found that it was not, he had no right to read it, and, after he did read it, he had no right to divulge its contents.

The organ of the friends of freedom thinks that the people of the South ought to be as violently excited as the people of the North are. It is of opinion, that public speakers and public lecturers at the South, as at the North, should be among the people, stirring up their passions and their zeal.

The intimacy that subsisted between her family and the Bonaparte family extended back a whole generation beyond her birth, and was continued through the life of Napoleon.

There will be found in these memoirs an admirable blending of historical facts and personal anecdotes.

French women, the slaves of the Southern States, are the slaves of the South. They may be having wilderings in their native country scattered abroad homeless and hopeless.

Having seen such a picture of the state of

feeling at the North, the Mercury asks:

Is the repose of the South that of conscious power? In her apparent indifference the result of the Southern slaves is to be seen. The postmaster, in making up the mail, was under the necessity of looking into it, to learn what was in it. The postmaster, after a hasty examination, contained the most vile anti-slavery sentiments, and that its author was a rabid abolitionist.

Our opinion is that the postmaster should be dismissed from office. His conduct is not to be excused, but we do not know that it was for himself or one of his clerks, but when he found that it was not, he had no right to read it, and, after he did read it, he had no right to divulge its contents.

The organ of the friends of freedom thinks that the people of the South ought to be as violently excited as the people of the North are. It is of opinion, that public speakers and public lecturers at the South, as at the North, should be among the people, stirring up their passions and their zeal.

The intimacy that subsisted between her family and the Bonaparte family extended back a whole generation beyond her birth, and was continued through the life of Napoleon.

There will be found in these memoirs an admirable blending of historical facts and personal anecdotes.

French women, the slaves of the Southern States, are the slaves of the South. They may be having wilderings in their native country scattered abroad homeless and hopeless.

Having seen such a picture of the state of

feeling at the North, the Mercury asks:

Is the repose of the South that of conscious power? In her apparent indifference the result of the Southern slaves is to be seen. The postmaster, in making up the mail, was under the necessity of looking into it, to learn what was in it. The postmaster, after a hasty examination, contained the most vile anti-slavery sentiments, and that its author was a rabid abolitionist.

Our opinion is that the postmaster should be dismissed from office. His conduct is not to be excused, but we do not know that it was for himself or one of his clerks, but when he found that it was not, he had no right to read it, and, after he did read it, he had no right to divulge its contents.

The organ of the friends of freedom thinks that the people of the South ought to be as violently excited as the people of the North are. It is of opinion, that public speakers and public lecturers at the South, as at the North, should be among the people, stirring up their passions and their zeal.

The intimacy that subsisted between her family and the Bonaparte family extended back a whole generation beyond her birth, and was continued through the life of Napoleon.

There will be found in these memoirs an admirable blending of historical facts and personal anecdotes.

French women, the slaves of the Southern States, are the slaves of the South. They may be having wilderings in their native country scattered abroad homeless and hopeless.

Having seen such a picture of the state of

feeling at the North, the Mercury asks:

Is the repose of the South that of conscious power? In her apparent indifference the result of the Southern slaves is to be seen. The postmaster, in making up the mail, was under the necessity of looking into it, to learn what was in it. The postmaster, after a hasty examination, contained the most vile anti-slavery sentiments, and that its author was a rabid abolitionist.

Our opinion is that the postmaster should be dismissed from office. His conduct is not to be excused, but we do not know that it was for himself or one of his clerks, but when he found that it was not, he had no right to read it, and, after he did read it, he had no right to divulge its contents.

The organ of the friends of freedom thinks that the people of the South ought to be as violently excited as the people of the North are. It is of opinion, that public speakers and public lecturers at the South, as at the North, should be among the people, stirring up their passions and their zeal.

The intimacy that subsisted between her family and the Bonaparte family extended back a whole generation beyond her birth, and was continued through the life of Napoleon.

There will be found in these memoirs an admirable blending of historical facts and personal anecdotes.

French women, the slaves of the Southern States, are the slaves of the South. They may be having wilderings in their native country scattered abroad homeless and hopeless.

Having seen such a picture of the state of

feeling at the North, the Mercury asks:

Is the repose of the South that of conscious power? In her apparent indifference the result of the Southern slaves is to be seen. The postmaster, in making up the mail, was under the necessity of looking into it, to learn what was in it. The postmaster, after a hasty examination, contained the most vile anti-slavery sentiments, and that its author was a rabid abolitionist.

Our opinion is that the postmaster should be dismissed from office. His conduct is not to be excused, but we do not know that it was for himself or one of his clerks, but when he found that it was not, he had no right to read it, and, after he did read it, he had no right to divulge its contents.

The organ of the friends of freedom thinks that the people of the South ought to be as violently excited as the people of the North are. It is of opinion, that public speakers and public lecturers at the South, as at the North, should be among the people, stirring up their passions and their zeal.

The intimacy that subsisted between her family and the Bonaparte family extended back a whole generation beyond her birth, and was continued through the life of Napoleon.

There will be found in these memoirs an admirable blending of historical facts and personal anecdotes.

French women, the slaves of the Southern States, are the slaves of the South. They may be having wilderings in their native country scattered abroad homeless and hopeless.

Having seen such a picture of the state of

feeling at the North, the Mercury asks:

Is the repose of the South that of conscious power? In her apparent indifference the result of the Southern slaves is to be seen. The postmaster, in making up the mail, was under the necessity of looking into it, to learn what was in it. The postmaster, after a hasty examination, contained the most vile anti-slavery sentiments, and that its author was a rabid abolitionist.

Our opinion is that the postmaster should be dismissed from office. His conduct is not to be excused, but we do not know that it was for himself or one of his clerks, but when he found that it was not, he had no right to read it, and, after he did read it, he had no right to divulge its contents.

The organ of the friends of freedom thinks that the people of the South ought to be as violently excited as the people of the North are. It is of opinion, that public speakers and public lecturers at the South, as at the North, should be among the people, stirring up their passions and their zeal.

The intimacy that subsisted between her family and the Bonaparte family extended back a whole generation beyond her birth, and was continued through the life of Napoleon.

There will be found in these memoirs an admirable blending of historical facts and personal anecdotes.

French women, the slaves of the Southern States, are the slaves of the South. They may be having wilderings in their native country scattered abroad homeless and hopeless.

Having seen such a picture of the state of

feeling at the North, the Mercury asks:

Is the repose of the South that of conscious power? In her apparent indifference the result of the Southern slaves is to be seen. The postmaster, in making up the mail, was under the necessity of looking into it, to learn what was in it. The postmaster, after a hasty examination, contained the most vile anti-slavery sentiments, and that its author was a rabid abolitionist.

Our opinion is that the postmaster should be dismissed from office. His conduct is not to be excused, but we do not know that it was for himself or one of his clerks, but when he found that it was not, he had no right to read it, and, after he did read it, he had no right to divulge its contents.

The organ of the friends of freedom thinks that the people of the South ought to be as violently excited as the people of the North are. It is of opinion, that public speakers and public lecturers at the South, as at the North, should be among the people, stirring up their passions and their zeal.

The intimacy that subsisted between her family and the Bonaparte family extended back a whole generation beyond her birth, and was continued through the life of Napoleon.

There will be found in these memoirs an admirable blending of historical facts and personal anecdotes.

French women, the slaves of the Southern States, are the slaves of the South. They may be having wilderings in their native country scattered abroad homeless and hopeless.

Having seen such a picture of the state of

feeling at the North, the Mercury asks:

Is the repose of the South that of conscious power? In her apparent indifference the result of the Southern slaves is to be seen. The postmaster, in making up the mail, was under the necessity of looking into it, to learn what was in it. The postmaster, after a hasty examination, contained the most vile anti-slavery sentiments, and that its author was a rabid abolitionist.

Our opinion is that the postmaster should be dismissed from office. His conduct is not to be excused, but we do not know that it was for himself or one of his clerks, but when he found that it was not, he had no right to read it, and, after he did read it, he had no right to divulge its contents.

The organ of the friends of freedom thinks that the people of the South ought to be as violently excited as the people of the North are. It is of opinion, that public speakers and public lecturers at the South, as at the North, should be among the people, stirring up their passions and their zeal.

The intimacy that subsisted between her family and the Bonaparte family extended back a whole generation beyond her birth, and was continued through the life of Napoleon.

There will be found in these memoirs an admirable blending of historical facts and personal anecdotes.

French women, the slaves of the Southern States, are the slaves of the South. They may be having wilderings in their native country scattered abroad homeless and hopeless.

Having seen such a picture of the state of

RANNEY & GORIN,

NO. 441 MAIN STREET, BETWEEN FIFTH AND SIXTH,

FALL IMPORTATIONS

OF

Silk, Dress, Fancy, and Variety Goods,

For Ladies' Wear.

NEW YORK.

From W. H. McDonald's Advertising No. 52.

WE ARE RECEIVING THE

LADIES' DRESS TRIMMINGS,

VELVET BLIND TRIMMINGS,

CARDBOARD DYE GOODS,

FLAX AND LINEN.

Patent Salamander Safe.

MESSRS. STEARNS & MARTIN,

104 & 106 1/2 W. 14TH ST.

CONTINUE TO SEND "WILDER'S Patent Salamander

within the New England States."

New York, Sept. 13, 1854.—No. 54 Wall.

Fire in New Orleans.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH!

RICH & CO.'S

(TRADE MARK).

SALAMANDER SAFE

SELL VICTORIOUS!

THE following salutation is to be seen in the last house, because it is the last that now has to hand:

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 16, 1854.

MESSRS. STEARNS & MARTIN,

104 & 106 1/2 W. 14TH ST.

GODFREY'S Patent Salamander

within the New England States."

WILDER'S Patent Salamander

within the New England States."

STEAMBOAT SUSQUEHANNAH at Auction

ON TUESDAY, Sept. 18, 1854.

PINEWOOD & CO.,

Importers and Merchants of

WHEELING, are prepared to give timely notice for the sale of the steamboat

SUSQUEHANNAH.

at auction.

At 10 o'clock.

STEAMBOAT SUSQUEHANNAH at Auction

ON TUESDAY, Sept. 18, 1854.

PINEWOOD & CO.,

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1 A. M.
AGENTS.

MESSES. KENNETT, DIX, & CO., No. 70, Tchoupitoulas street, are our authorized agents in New Orleans. Those indebted to us in that city will please make payment to them.

Our Merchants—We are supplied with our Tuesday's issue, which contains a review of our agents for the preceding week, by letting us know at Monday how many will be wanted.
They will be put up in tickets for the convenience of sending off to their correspondents.

OHIO ELECTIONS.—By a private dispatch received late night we learn that the American party have succeeded in electing their ticket in the Hocking county by a majority of about five thousand.

ODD FELLOWS' HALL—ORPHANS' SCUPER.—
To-night, our citizens are called upon to assist by their patronage the one hundred and twenty orphan girls now in residence at Asylum.

It would hardly occur to any reader to attend at Odd Fellows' Hall this evening. Calls upon the charity of the people of Louisville, such as this, have never failed to be met in a generous and hearty spirit.

We would particularly point out to the many strangers now in the city that no more pleasant place can be found for an orphan's promenade than the fairground.

Our Fair's Hall will have ample time after leaving the Institute building to call at the hall and partake of the supper.

ALL tanners and those interested in the improvement of one of our most important and useful articles—leather and tannery—the meeting to be held in the Auditorium of the Mechanics'
Exchange on Fifth street, this (Wednesday) morning, Oct. 11th, at 9 o'clock. The object of the meeting is to consider the dependence of the art of tanning upon the principles of chemical science, &c. Mr. L. W. Woolsey Fiske, of this city, will endeavor to set forth the efficiencies and it will render to the successful prosecution of the art.

RIVER NEWS.—Capt. Chris. Damon, one of the pilots of the Eclipse, has just returned from the mouth of Arkansas, taking a general survey of the condition of the rivers between this and that point.

He will be here Saturday evening, and will be spending and teaching us to trace characters of light and life to do justice to the charming lives of Kentucky's fairest daughters, who, in all their proud endurance, beauty, grace, and mirth.

Had occasion last year repeated to committee of tanners and manufacturers of the officers of the Association that the society intended to meet again in October, and that we were to expect much interest, the same was done in a very simple and forcible manner.

The Fair To-Day.—The following is a list of the articles to be exhibited to-day:

SECOND DAY MANUFACTURES.

Silvers and other Ware.

Dishes of Silver-Ware.—
Dishes of Tin Ware.—
Dishes of Copper Ware.—
Dishes of Marble or Stone Cutting.—
Dishes of Porcelain.—
Dishes of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Hats, Bonnets, &c.

Almond Boxes, Fans, &c.

Specimens of Furniture.

Specimens of Household Goods.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of Porcelain.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

Specimens of Jewelry.

Specimens of Books.

Specimens of Pictures.

Specimens of Prints.

Specimens of China.

Specimens of Glass.

BUSINESS CARDS.

D. L. & CO., Grocery and Commission Merchants, between Main and Waterstreets.
SON T. & CO., Wholesale Auction and Commission Agents, Main street.
AND W& CO., Commission and Forwarding

From S. M. Pettingill, 4 Street, New England—They are agents for journals in the U.S.

N.Y. CITY BUYERS

YORK.

Hydraulic Foundry,
Northeast corner of Washington and Floyd streets,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

FACTURES.

BERRY & PUBLISHER
And retail,
the celebrated lot, Davis, & Co.

YORK.

other Pianos.
Broadway, New York, and Dean's, Wholesale dealers, and Music Agents for and other Pianos made by H. C.
these pianos are considered superior

To Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Boston, and New York.

Sil
A DAMS EXPRESS CO.
Philadelphia, when
check on Philadelphia is of not less than $100.
$100.

ADS.

Silver
A DAMS EXPRESS CO.
Philadelphia, when
check on Philadelphia,
sums of not less than $100 $100.

NEOUS.

range.
transport from the Mint at with American Gold or a in all denominations, in the following rates:
at $1.25

Partnerships

ership.
is day formed a copartnership for a Steamboat Agency and Com-business under the name of BELL,
45 Poydras street.

ESS CARDS.

RAILROAD

 From Cincinnati in.....